

November 13-14, 2014
Rio de Janeiro, Brazil

Carol Fox is the Director of Strategic and Enterprise Risk Practice for RIMS, a global not-for-profit professional risk management society. A Miami University graduate, she serves as vice chair for the U.S. Technical Advisory Group on ISO 31000. Known for her risk management experience and writings, she received RIMS' 2009 Goodell Award. In 2011, Treasury & Risk named her as one of the 100 Most Influential People in Finance.